

David Slotnick

Rivka Fox Youth Award

David Slotnick started working at the Samuel Field Y when he was 16 years old and has worked at the Y full-time since 1993, where he started as the Director of Children's Services at the Bay Terrace Center.

David has been the Program Director of Youth and Camping Services at the Y for the past nine years.

He oversees children and youth programming for the entire agency, including Little Neck, Bay Terrace and 8 of the Y's off-site programs, which include nearly 1500 participants and 300 staff.

In addition, David oversees many of the Y's summer camping programs, which include nearly 600 children between the ages of 5 and 15 years old.

He is also responsible for the oversight of the Y's Teen Program, which consists of providing job training opportunities and academic support systems.

On a personal note, David has been married to wife, Michele, for 15 years. They has two children, Sierra and Miranda, who attend programs at the Samuel Field Y and Hebrew School at Bellerose Jewish Center.
